

New Zealand Collection

Uncovering hard to find content, exploring new perspectives

Aotearoa New Zealand is often said to be the last major land mass on earth to be discovered. Today, much of its best research remains undiscovered or difficult to find online.

Read more at www.informit.com.au/nz

Informit New Zealand Collection has been developed in order to provide easy and affordable access to full text content published in, or of relevance to, New Zealand.

Multidisciplinary in scope, this resource will benefit anyone looking for research which explores New Zealand culture and society in depth.

Content includes many authoritative Australasian journals which are unique to Informit.

Subjects covered include:

- » art
- » business
- » education
- » environment and conservation
- » family studies
- » sociology
- » Indigenous and Maori studies
- » law
- » music

New Zealand Collection

Uncovering hard to find content, exploring new perspectives

Informit New Zealand Collection provides cover-to-cover access to authoritative research published in, and relating to, New Zealand. This multidisciplinary resource will benefit anyone looking for unique content with a regional perspective.

Content is comprehensively indexed and can be searched or browsed – title by title.

Why subscribe to the Informit New Zealand Collection?

Benefits

Core content – access high quality research relating to New Zealand, Maori and Pacific Islands culture and history

Unique material – access peer reviewed journal articles unavailable elsewhere online

Multidisciplinary – subject coverage includes business, education, humanities, Indigenous studies, law and social sciences

Established – over twenty years of backfiles means you won't overlook important archive content

Accessibility – find previously hard to find material quickly

Comprehensive – benefit from cover-to-cover access to full text article PDFs

Email alerts – track subjects and titles of interest

Additional benefits for librarians

Integrated – link to Informit content from your library catalogue

Current – find out when new titles are added to the Collection via RSS title feeds

Measurable – monitor COUNTER compliant usage statistics via Informit Admin

Customisable – manage display options, linking preferences and authentication via Informit Admin

Remote access – support users working outside the library

Journals covered include

- » Australasian Journal of Regional Studies
- » Australian and New Zealand Journal of Art
- » Australian and New Zealand Journal of Sociology
- » Australian and New Zealand Property Journal
- » Childrenz Issues
- » He Puna Korero: Journal of Maori and Pacific Development
- » Journal of New Zealand Studies
- » Journal of the Polynesian Society
- » New Zealand Journal of Employment Relations
- » New Zealand Journal of Environmental Law
- » New Zealand Law Review
- » Perfect Beat: The Pacific Journal of Research into Contemporary Music and Popular Culture

For a full list of titles visit www.informit.com.au/nz

Start searching

Access the index data, free of cost via the Informit interface:
<http://search.informit.com.au>

Request a quote or free trial

Access to the full text is on an annual subscription basis. Request a quote or free trial via www.informit.com.au/trial

Over 70 Informit® databases to choose from

Search, research and discover core and unique content from the Asia Pacific region. With a wide variety of subject databases to choose from, a subscription to Informit increases the diversity of your collections and fills gaps left by other content providers.

Informit databases include A+ Education, Business Collection, Engineering Collection, Health Collection, Humanities & Social Sciences Collection, AGIS Plus Text (Law), and Australian Public Affairs - Full Text.

Read more at www.informit.com.au

About RMIT Publishing

RMIT Publishing is the largest provider of authoritative content from the Asia Pacific region. A preferred partner for content providers, RMIT Publishing collaborates with publishers, government departments, research institutes and others. Through its Informit brand and online platform, RMIT Publishing provides easy access to core content and specialist research not readily available elsewhere online.

Read more at www.rmitpublishing.com.au

RMIT Publishing is a business unit of RMIT Training Pty Ltd – a wholly owned subsidiary of RMIT University.

Contact RMIT Publishing

Australia and New Zealand

T +61 3 9925 8100 | E sales@rmitpublishing.com.au

Contact details outside Australasia

UK & Europe: Burgundy Information Services: T +44 (0)1865 753 951 | E sales@burgundyservices.com

USA & Canada: Gibson Library Connections: T +1 450 458 0677 | E gary@gibsonlibraryconnections.ca

South Africa: Swets (South Africa) T +27 12 663 1924 | E info@sa.swets.com

South East Asia: Swets (Singapore) T +65 6296 9373 | E info@sg.swets.com

Rest of World: please contact RMIT Publishing directly